Save when you buy two of the same honing plate direct from BHJ!

Customer feedback has indicated that the new generation V8, V6 & H engine designs – where studs or bolts reach deep into the block – benefit significantly from having both banks torqued when honing the cylinders. In addition, torquing two plates to a V, or H configuration block reduces accumulated labor time over the life of the plates. As a result buying honing plates in pairs for V & H layout engines has become more popular.
